Dig out some old magazines at home and have students create an “I Am…” collage. This is a great way to spark some creativity, with the added benefit of it being a mood booster!